In March 2003, our association took affiliation with Marwar chamber of commerce & industry, and in their support, our members also kept their offices closed [Jodhpur Bandh-

After the thorough working on magazines & newsletters publication techniques, our team members launched its first IT journal- " JCDA Journal " on 15th August 2003. Its first copy was complete IT newsletter in its kind, full of computer articles, jokes, technical journals, birth day wishes for members, current news, IT trends etc. The copy of it is still available on our website- www.jcdajodhpur.com

In the journey ahead, more & more IT dealers showed faith in this united forum, and get membership with JCDA. On 11th January 2004, we welcomed all the new members of JCDA in Shubham Farm house, followed by food & fun.

Along with many more IT association of India, JCDA also requested Hon. Finance Minister of India to reduce the import duty on Computer parts & Laptops, so that the demand of computers can be multiplied and consequently, sale of our members can be increased. This request was taken care of in the union budget of 2004, and JCDA send letter of thanks to FM, and the acknowledgement letter from the Finance Ministry was also received.

In July 2004, the central excise notification was released, where computer repair & maintenance services were added under the service tax umbrella. JCDA took it forward & approached all the members & circulated necessary form & helped them to get the service tax registration number through local office of Deputy Commissioner.

JCDA organized games, technical seminars, vendor meetings etc. for its members time to time. JCDA also appealed its members to use & promote Legal softwares.

DQ week magazine conducted survey of all the IT associations (more than 1000) in INDIA, and compared their policies, members strength, transparency of processes, website availability & other various factors and the final list of Top 50 IT associations is framed. Thanks & congratulations to all of you; our JCDA is there in this list of Top 50 associations of INDIA with 42nd rank.

We think differently

JCDA believe in doing business in ethical manners and we have published admirable ethical behavioral guidelines for our members over our website. While the objective of all business is to make profits, it should contribute to the interest of the society by ensuring fair practices.

JCDA is aware of its responsibility towards the environment as well as human beings. We are working towards making our association - GREEN. JCDA understand the consequences of smoking, taking drugs & alcohol. JCDA will always promote healthy & natural eating habits to improve health & wealth of its members.

JCDA also believe that elections must be the last resort for deciding over the post of any responsibility in the association. Members must come forward voluntarily for helping the association becoming stronger. It has been observed everywhere that elections resulted in bilateral groups and resulted in dead - end destinations. For social or professional groups like us, we can not afford the differences among team members. Unless not very essential, the selections should be preferred on unanimously nomination basis.
